Application for an Affiliate Organisation

2016-17

The CDI is the UK-wide professional association for the career development sector, which includes career advisers, career educators, career managers and other professionals working in the public, private, voluntary and community sectors.

Launched in April 2013 we are the new professional body for the career development sector, with a growing membership - currently over 4,500.

We promote the benefits that careers education, information, advice, guidance and career management bring to individuals, society and the economy. We are an awarding body, with a Professional Register and provide a variety of activities to support members and non-members in their CPD. We aim to be at the forefront of debates on career development policy, lobbying hard on behalf of our members and the profession, promoting the value of effective and impartial careers support.

We are delighted to welcome into the Institute organisations that have an interest in promoting and supporting the work of our members. Affiliate of the CDI is available to colleges, universities, training providers, charities, sector skills councils and private companies, indeed any organisation from the corporate, public, community or voluntary sectors.

Affiliate Organisations subscribe to the CDI Code of Ethics and support our mission and campaigns to optimise the profile, visibility and impact of career development.

If you are based in a school you may be interested to learn that we now offer a School Affiliate package. The School Affiliate benefits package is similar to that offered to individual members, with up to three named teachers being able to benefit from attending CDI conferences, training and events at the reduced member rate. For more information visit the website.

In return we offer Affiliate Organisations:

1. Access for one named employee to receive the full benefits of CDI membership, including News by Email bulletins and Career Matters subscription and purchasing training/events for that person at the member price

2. Use of the CDI's Affiliate Organisations logo on your corporate literature

3. Communications and networking:

- Annual lunch for Affiliate Members - opportunity to meet key players in the CDI and wider career development profession to explore issues of mutual interest
- Introductions to other Affiliate Members to facilitate networking and business development
- Invitations to special events including high profile launches and receptions

4. Sponsorship and advertising opportunities:

- 10% discount off recruitment advertising in Portico
