

New Career Coaching Qualification for Independent Careers Advisers

Careers Assured by CDI

The Talentino!™ Career Development Coaching Programme is now available for independent careers advisers like you.

It is the first programme to win the Careers Assured award from CDI.

The programme consists of 25 hours training, which is also formally CPD certified, and on successful completion you will qualify as a Foundation Level Practitioner Coach accredited by the European Mentoring & Coaching Council. It will also qualify for your CPD required to continue on the register.

There are two versions and both come with a unique set of resources students love to use and you have everything you need.

If you are working in mainstream - “It’s in the Box!” will enable you to help young people to:

- Identify what their core passions are in relation to different careers
- Explore the widest range of options
- Make smarter career decisions
- Develop employability skills
- earn what they need to do to be successful in their chosen career

For young people with learning difficulties “Careers at Every Level” is designed specifically for working in Special School type environments with young people with learning difficulties. The objective of the programme is to help improve the probability and possibility of paid employment and develop work related skills for independent living. Research shows it works.

If you book before 31st October 2015, we are offering a discounted price of £995, (usual price is £1495) and the course will be run in small groups in our Careers ‘Pod’ Reading town centre – picnic lunch and cakes are provided.
