

Kay Maddox-Daines BA (Hons) MA, MEd, PGCE, PhD, MCIPD, MCMI

Managing Director of Gipping Transitions. Our organisation provides career coaching and personal and professional development for individuals and corporate clients. We support people in all phases of career from young people contemplating future career opportunities, graduates seeking their first role to those with more established work experience seeking promotion or a career change.

Kay has over 20 years' experience in corporate and individual career counselling and development. Throughout her career she has worked with individuals in all phases of career, from young people embarking on apprenticeships with Alstom UK, to graduate development with Pirelli, to those negotiating mid career changes in further and higher education and executive coaching with BAE. Kay has designed and delivered large corporate training programmes incorporating management, academic, personal and professional development sessions to meet the needs of a wide range of learners. Kay regularly contributes at conferences and in journals to further the debate on good practice in personal and professional development in career.

Gaining entry onto the CDI UK Register was important to me because I am keen to demonstrate our organisation's commitment to high professional and ethical standards in career coaching and development. The standard provides potential clients with an expectation of quality and confidence in the services that will be provided.
